NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose health information. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

FOR TREATMENT

We may use health information about you to provide you with rehabilitation or related services. We may disclose health information about you to other therapists, doctors (your medical/dental providers), nurses, technicians, clinical students or other clinical or support personnel needed to assist in optimal care. This might also include disclosing or using health information to educate and train a designated family member to assist with home rehabilitation or activities support.

FOR PAYMENT

We may use and disclose health information about you so that treatment and services you receive may be billed to and payment may be collected from your insurance company or liable party. We may need to disclose health information to your health plan and or payer about treatment you are going to have in order to obtain prior approval or to determine whether there is specific coverage for the services to be delivered to you.

CONSENTS, AUTHORIZATIONS AND ACCESS

Currently, there is no federal regulation that requires your healthcare provider to obtain consent for treatment, payment or associated healthcare operations. However, all providers are required to adhere to the privacy regulations stipulated in the Health Insurance Portability and Accessibility Act (HIPPA) effective April 2001.

The primary focus of the privacy section of the HIPPA is to require that health care providers manage all health care information in a confidential and "need to know" only basis. This includes paper documents, electronic data and telephonic communications. HIPPA requires that all patients have full access to their health information and that they are given the right to review copy and amend it, as specifically requested.

While consents for provider services are unnecessary, authorizations for use of health information outside of treatment, treatment-related operations and/or payment are required. A signed authorization form giving permission to utilize protected health information, for other than the aforementioned, must be obtained prior to disclosing or using private health information. The Act clearly states that the health care provider may not restrict access to services or in any way penalize a patient in the event of authorization declination or revocation.

Facility policy:

It is the policy of Hope Rehab that health information is only shared with the prescribing physician and practicing providers of Hope Rehab. A release of health information form is required if health information is to be shared with any other person or entity.
